

A Message from RI's CEO and Board Chair

Dear Team Member,

You are a valued member of Relief International, a humanitarian and development non-profit agency that provides emergency relief, rehabilitation, development assistance, and program services to communities worldwide.

Relief International is dedicated to reducing human suffering and is non-political and non-sectarian in its mission. During the past 60 years, Relief International has worked in more than 50 countries in Africa, Asia, Latin America, the Caribbean, and Middle East to serve the needs of the most vulnerable, neglected groups - particularly women, children, those affected by natural disasters and civil conflicts, and the poor. We deliver life-saving aid in the most fragile settings.

At Relief International, upholding our organizational values is crucial to creating a safe working environment and the ongoing sustainability of our programs and our work. Relief International relies on funding from a wide range of organizations, including the U.S. and U.K. governments, European Union, institutional donors, UN Agencies, international and local NGOs, and from private donations. Funding is provided to us with the expectation that it will be used in a responsible, transparent manner to implement much-needed programs. These expectations align with our organizational values, rooted in ethics and mutual respect, of integrity, adaptability, collaboration, inclusivity, and sustainability.

We acknowledge that working in these fragile settings can be challenging. Adherence to our Code of Conduct, which guides our work and is informed by our 'Key Conduct Policies,' including our safeguarding, security, financial crimes, prohibited parties, and human resources-related policies, will help us meet these challenges. You should read the Code of Conduct and these policies carefully, make sure you understand them, and review them each year. By signing the Code of Conduct Acknowledgement and Pledge you are showing your commitment to our values, not only to our donors but also to our partners and the communities where we work.

Sincerely,

Chip Levensgood
Board Chair

We also agree to uphold Relief International’s Code of Conduct.

The Code of Conduct lays out five principles that guide us as Relief International Team Members in working to realize our Vision while being true to our Values.

Code of Conduct Principles

By signing the Code of Conduct, each of us agrees to adhere to five principles:

1. We will adhere to Key Conduct Policies, Applicable Laws, Regulations, and Contractual Requirements.
2. We will handle funds and property responsibly.
3. We will contribute to a respectful work environment.
4. We will protect the safety of participants and community members.
5. We will protect the safety and security of myself and others.

Do What is Right

Principle 1: We will adhere to Key Conduct Policies, Applicable Laws, Regulations, and Contractual Requirements.

Relief International has a zero-tolerance policy for corruption, support to prohibited parties (intentional or inadvertent), or mistreatment of participants or other Team Members. We expect personal and professional integrity and compliance with our Code of Conduct and all applicable laws, regulations, and contractual requirements.

Each team member must read, understand, and abide by the following Key Conduct Policies both inside and outside the workplace and take the required trainings related to these policies within the required timeframes.

Ethics and Security Incident Reporting and Management Policy Safeguarding Policies <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Sexual Exploitation and Abuse and Harassment (SEAH) Policy• Child Protection Policy• Combatting Trafficking in Persons Policy Financial Crimes Policies <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Fraud, Bribery, and Corruption Policy• Money Laundering Policy Preventing Support for and Transactions with Prohibited Parties Policy (PPP)	Acceptance First: The RI Security Framework Other Key Policies, Frameworks, and Handbooks <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Employee Handbook (Field Employee Manual for the field)• Conflicts of Interest Policy and Disclosure Form• Data Protection Policy• Whistleblower Policy• Equal Employment Opportunity Policy• Gift Acceptance Policy• Drug Free Workplace Policy• Program Management in Fragile Settings Framework• Accountability to Communities Framework

All of these policies are available to Team Members at all country locations. They can also be accessed on RI's intranet, RI-Connect, and in our document management system, Box, online at Box > Toolbox > Key Policies.

Any questions about the applicability or interpretation of any law, rule, or regulation, or the mechanisms for reporting suspected violations, should be directed to RI's General Counsel.

Principle 2: We will handle funds and property responsibly.

We will safeguard and make responsible use of the information, funds, and property, to which we have access as a result of being a Relief International Team Member. We will:

- not commit RI financially or otherwise, without having received specific authorization.

Work
Responsibly

- keep accurate records, comply with applicable financial and accounting standards, and cooperate with officials and auditors.
- adhere to contractual and regulatory requirements, obligations to donors, and international sanctions regulations.
- not commit a fraudulent act, act of misconduct, or a breach of trust under any circumstances (See: Financial Crimes Policies for examples).
- only use RI property (e.g., premises, assets, equipment, supplies, and IT equipment and tools) for work related purposes. RI property may not be used for personal gain or unapproved purposes.

Principle 3: We will contribute to a respectful work environment.

Team Members must adhere to our policies and exhibit behavior conducive to maintaining a work environment that promotes staff health, well-being, and resilience. We will:

- treat all colleagues with dignity and respect.
- respect the rights of all individuals, including providing reasonable accommodations for persons with disabilities or special needs.
- reject abuse of power and any form of violence.
- make employment decisions based on an individual's abilities and merits not personal characteristics unrelated to the job.
- safeguard the confidentiality of personnel, participant, and proprietary information.
- refrain from any involvement in criminal or unethical activities, activities that contravene human rights, or activities that compromise the image and interests of Relief International.

There is certain behavior that is not conducive to a healthy work environment. These behaviors are detailed in the Employee Handbook and other key policies. Other unacceptable behaviors are outlined below.

We will not:	We will report:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • engage in disorderly, antagonistic, and bullying conduct of any kind. • judge individuals based on factors unrelated to work, such as ethnicity, religion, gender, sexual orientation. • make offensive or derogatory comments, jokes, emails or communication, including sexually explicit images and correspondence. • work while impaired by alcohol or illegal substances. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • unwanted, inappropriate or disrespectful sexual advances or harassment. • bullying, perceived threats, intimidation, favoritism, belittlement, verbal or physical outrages. • situations that threaten the safety, security or well-being of staff. • hostility to individuals due to race, religion, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, veteran status or other characteristic protected by law.

Principle 4: We will protect the safety of participants and community members.

Relief International has a zero-tolerance policy for any unacceptable behavior with participants, community members, partners, and team members. Sexual exploitation and abuse refer to abuse by aid workers who demand sexual favors from participants in exchange for humanitarian or development assistance.

We will adhere to RI's Sexual Exploitation and Abuse and Harassment (SEAH) Policy, which follows the six core principles of the IASC Task Force on Protection from Sexual Exploitation and Abuse.

Relief International values its approach to relating with participants as partners. This is why RI uses the term participants, partner communities, or community stakeholders rather than beneficiaries in an effort to promote mutual respect in contrast to dependency relationships. We must treat participants with courtesy, professionalism and respect, using the RI Accountability to Communities Framework as a guide. We will endeavor to protect women, children, persons with disabilities, LGBTQI+ and other individuals in situations of vulnerability from sexual and gender-based violence.

Principle 5: We will protect the safety and security of myself and others.

We agree to follow all RI safety and security guidelines that are relevant to my location, to stop any work should it becomes unsafe, and we will:

- not engage in neglect or carelessness that results in damage or destruction to participants’ or RI’s property or endangers the life or health of any person;
- not continue working for RI if we plead guilty to or are convicted of a crime or dismissed from a previous role due to misconduct that indicates that we are unfit for the job or poses a threat to the safety or well-being of RI Team Members, participants, or property;
- adhere to relevant transportation, safety, and safeguarding SOPs; and
- promptly report a security or safety concern or the loss of or known malfunctioning of vehicles or other equipment.

Report Suspected Misconduct without Fear of Reprisal

We will Report Suspected Violations

As part of my compliance with Key Conduct Policies, we will report any suspected violations of the Code of Conduct, Key Conduct Policies, or applicable laws and regulations. There are three options for reporting:

To Relevant Focal Point	To the Incident Reporting Hotline	To the Ombudsperson
At country-office level, we will report by email or in-person to the relevant focal point in my RI team. The focal point is then responsible for recording the details of the incident, sharing them with the Country Director, and submitting them through the online Incident Reporting Portal.	If for any reason we do not feel able to report an incident to the focal point in my team, or if the incident occurs within a regional or GSO team, we will report it directly to the Incident Reporting Hotline. This can be done anonymously and in a number of ways: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. via the online Incident Reporting Form: bit.ly/RIIncidentsHotline 2. via e-mail: incidents@ri.org 3. by leaving a message at phone: +1 (434) 288-0202 	If an incident that is reported to a focal point or through the reporting hotline does not receive an appropriate response within a reasonable timeframe, the incident can be reported to the RI Ombudsperson via e-mail at ombudsperson@ri.org. The Ombudsperson is independent of RI management.

All incidents reported via the Incident Reporting Hotline go directly to RI’s Incident Management Team. Reports may be made anonymously and without fear of reprisal. Please refer to the Whistleblower Policy on non-retaliation for reporting violations. All reports of alleged non-compliance and violations will be responded to appropriately, including an investigation of the offense, potentially corrective actions, and disclosures to appropriate donor and governmental authorities, as appropriate. RI commits to fully cooperate with any Government agencies responsible for investigations or audits. We understand that Relief International may discipline any Team Member whose conduct violates applicable laws, regulations, or basic tenets of the Code of Conduct up to and including termination.
